CAWI-Print 2011

A reliable currency for the Austrian print market

The CAWI-Print survey is a media analysis covering Austrian magazines, journals and other specific print products. It was launched in 2006 by GfK Austria and The Media Consultants and has been conducted annually ever since.

Its purpose is to provide representative data on media coverage for a whole range of media never surveyed so far with a view to enabling high-quality media planning.

Methodology used by CAWI-Print 2011

Universe:	Austrians aged 14 to 65
Geographical region:	All of Austria
Survey period:	4 March to 24 June 2011
Sample size:	5000 interviews
Interview method:	CAWI = Computer-Assisted Web Interviews

Remarkable possessions

Yachtrevue readers fall into the high-income brackets and have the buying power to match. It comes as no surprise then that they live their lives to the full, enjoying prized possessions such as top-of-the-range watches or a GPS system for their car.

	Yachtrevue	Total population	Affinity*
